If you want to provide feedback, do not hesitate to contact our team at yahoo_answers.sunset@verizonmedia.com. Yahoo, which is now part of the Verizon Media Group following the sale of the company to Telecom of almost $ 5 billion in 2017, announced the change at the top of the Yahoo answers. I can't overcome it, so I can't renew the championship. Users will also have until June 30 to request their data or will be inaccessible later. CIARA includes "all the contents generated by the user, including the list of questions, questions, the list of answers, answers and any image", says Yahoo, but you will not be able to download content of other users ". Questions or answers. A note sent to Active Yahoo Answers The members provides a little more details on the because Yahoo is closing the platform, including that "it has become less popular over the years" and that the company "defined to move our Resources "from the product to" Focus on products that best need our members ". Dear Community of Yahoo responses, we launched Yahoo replies sixteen years ago to help people all over the world connect and share information. If you have other ideas on how Use it or you need help to manage it in your league, do not hesitate to reach: calonji@gmail.com. So a better thing would be to look at the overall records. Unfortunately, with 32 wins and 46 losses, I have the worst record in Our League. Every year, 9 friends and I get together in person to draw up our teams and then for the next 4 months (and most of the 8 months of "off-season", everything we are talking about is football. Update April 6 , 10:22 et: added further information and links on the history and heredity of Yahoo's responses. Good luck. It can be performed entirely in the browser using the Python code hosted in Google Honestly, Yahoo's team replies perhaps the arrest is for the best, considering that the site seems to be invaded invaded Conspirational garbage. However, you can still view any questions and answers published until May 4th. This tells me that their success was the product of a good setting of training. What was last year's worst trade? Last year it was a relatively commercial year for us with 7 operations. Just disconnect and try again. I tried ... starting from April 20, the platform does not accept new observations, explains the FAQs. It marks as irrelevant marked as an irrelevant cancellation and my appearances are completely tired. On May 4, the site close. It is interesting to note that, last year, the trade initiator has always received less points than the trade receiver. With these points points, it is still difficult to say what the worst trade was. Matt M and Robert had the lowest points and we also see that in the optimal scenario they would go much worse. The best solution because I can't access my Fantasy Yahoo fantasy league? Even if we could not have been proud of that we made together, we are lengthening to let you know that we decided to close Yahoo's answers on May 4, 2021. The platform has been operational since 2005 and in the following years its relevance as Meme paradise remained intact while his practicality as a forum decreased during the rise of Reddit, Quora and other Hangout Internet competing. Hi Sir ... I couldn't be more agreeing with you. I mean, is there always next year, however? What would happen last year if everyone played their optimal training every week? It is difficult when you leave a high score player on the bench, it is the heartbreaking heart when the player puts 50 points. Other solutions that I started a Yahoo Fantasy football championship through your access system The closing of Yahoo answers not influence your Yahoo account or other Yahoo services. But it is interesting to consider what would have happened without those mistakes. This is compared with the optimal ranks calculated calculated You will be able to do it until 30 June 2021, after which your Yahoo data will respond safely and not more available. I only scratched the surface here, but I will have the questions that I tried to answer my league using Yahoo data. I built a website to access Yahoo. If you want to download a copy of your questions and answers you have published, you can do it by registering your Dashboard on privacy and requesting a download. Points lost is the number of points that could have been obtained by starting the players with the highest score. What kind of straw really do we really do here? While Yahoo responds to the war once a fundamental part of Yahoo's products and services has become less popular over the years since the needs of our members have changed. How would the championship be discovered if everyone played their highest formation every week? He barely lost in the week 14, but starting trubisky he would have obtained the victory and he would keep him in the playoffs. Mystery of the genre are partly Football Fantasy. For example, Robert seems to have gone better than Matt with trade 6, but Matt ended up in front of Robert in the regular season, and both ended up in the top 4, so that trade also counted? +18 Other responses read more brand as irrelevant marked as an irrelevant cancellation, I have not given an alternative e-mail and I have no other way to discover my password. The real question I want to know is what would happen if that trade had not occurred. Ask a fortune of Amnesty Goog-> Mark as an irrelevant marked as an irrelevant cancellation as irrelevant marked as an irrelevant cancellation I was unable to access my fantasyfootball team in 3 weeks because the site says that my "credentials cannot be Check. À € àvelop in the first section, entitled "Who is the worst manager of our League?" I make comparisons in years. Some suggestions these were the 10 best performances of players on the bench in our League in 2019: who could blame Joe for not having started Trubisky in week 14 (the first week of the playoffs)? Then I will show you how to do the same download process and analyze these data for your championships. Who is the worst manager of our League? As I said, I'm not good in fantasy football, but the first question I wanted to ask was, are they the worst? Can you access your e-mail? Try going to your profile and see if your teams are listed there. If you are asking to access your Android phone, probably not. Where I access in my Yahoo Fantasy football ... surprisingly, Sam was not giving up McCaffrey. To evaluate these operations, I first examined the total amount of the points received by both managers from trade. Here are every trade and the sum of the points that the players exchanged have received after trade: the negotiations 2 and 5 were operational for the choices, so only a part received a player. Mark as irrelevant marked as an irrelevant cancellation, did he say my services were suspended, and now I can't access the fantasy football to change my training for this week? I checked what would happen, these were the results: it is interesting to note that the four lower ones would still be in the lower part 4 in what I was calling the "optimal" scenario. I don't even know what it is or how to solve it. To perform this analysis, follow all the steps of this notebook: Ranksperyear.iPynb. (Since I offered somewhere in my personal information). People could not change their formations ... this was bad, and in the optimal scenario, if Sam had not exchanged McCaffrey, he would have done the playoffs (top 6). The worst trade was more likely that trade 6, Matt M gave Derrick Henry, without that trade could have been the first absolute in the playoffs. How to manage it for your league took care to make this the most easy to follow possible. I reversed any trade and then evaluated the "optimal" scenario in which everyone play their best training. We had involved a rotating crew of friends, but in the last 6 years we had the same group identical in our fantasy football league. Almost every year I lose, ending up dead hard than what the playoffs did, but that's not the point.
